chapati or a piece of fruit to him. One morning, it so happened that the tailor was in a bad temper and when the elephant put out its trunk as usual, the tailor, instead of giving the elephant a cheery welcome or a piece of fruit, pricked its trunk with a needle. The elephant withdrew its trunk and went away.

While returning from the river, the elephant filled his trunk with dirty water. As he passed the shop where the angry tailor was sitting, he put his trunk in through the window and poured the dirty water all over the tailor and his work, and thus the elephant got his revenge for the trick the tailor had played on him.
